"Corrected"

In our issue of April, 21, we quoted the Evening Post in an article concerning Judge Sampson's Campaign, and left off the word "advertisement". This was not an Editorial of the Post nor a news item, but an advertisement. The Post is taking no hand in the race for Appellate Judge in the seventh district.

Law Disregarded

The law of the Commonwealth as well as the law of the City, is being violated every day. Who is to blame we do not attempt to say, but it is being done.

There is a dozen little fellows, under the required age, who are running automobiles every day upon the streets of this city. There are others who have no license to run a car who will get into a car and take all the road if you don't watch them. It is a wonder that some one has not already been killed. There are only a few machines that have the required lights, and some have none at all. It is only the fellows who have their machines lighted by electric lights who have them at all on the sides or rear, and these fellows would not have them if they had to light them or keep oil in them.

One of these days some one is going to bite the dirt so hard they will never remember where they hit, and then there will be the wail, I told you so, I knew it, I have been looking for it all the time. Many are too reckless and have no regard for the fellow who is on foot.

The Grand Jury is in session and has done nothing to put a stop to this. It may be that their attention has not been called to it. The City officials have made some passes toward stopping it. Let some of the officers get a hustle on and start a campaign to stop this misuse of automobiles before it is too late to make amends for and limb.

Barbourville Has The Governor

Governor James D. Black, that sounds good to those who know our genial Lieutenant Governor. Since his election and installation he has been busy with the Senate, and has only served as the Governor of the Commonwealth one day. Governor Stanley was in the State of Ohio, and while there, as a matter of fact Lieutenant Governor was the man of the hour.

Governor Black is always busy. He addressed an audience at Richmond last Tuesday; he delivered an address to the East Kentucky State Normal School; he will deliver a lecture to the Sunday Schools at Shelbyville Sunday; he will deliver an address at the closing of the school at Pineville, on the 18th of this month, and on June first he will deliver an address to the Graduating class at Tusculum College, Tenn., where Governor Black graduated, and at which school he had the degrees of A. B. and L. L. D. Conferred upon him.

We congratulate all these people on securing this noted Kentuckian for these occasions. He is one of Kentucky's best orators in fact he belongs to that class known as the silver tongued orators of Kentucky.

The Judge, as he is commonly called by his most intimate friends, is at home in the Sunday Schools, he has been an ardent worker in the Sunday Schools for a long time, and when it comes to doing things in that line he is at home, and is ready to respond when called upon on any occasion.

What has Become of the Dog and Cow Law?

The City Council has, from time to time, made laws regulating all kinds of irregularities. There has been a rigid law in reference to the running at large of dogs, and it has been a law unchanged for many years that no king of stock can run at large upon the streets or commons of the City.

We do not know who is to blame for the neglect, but it has come to the time here that the people have to sit up at nights to drive the dogs and cattle out of the garden and yards or let them be destroyed. You can see at all times, both day and night, all kinds of dogs, unmuzzled, running at large on the streets. You can see all kinds of cattle and horses and other stock upon the commons and streets.

While this is most prevalent on the outskirts, yet this is a part of the City, and the man who resides in the last house within the corporate limits is entitled to the same protection as those who live on the public square.

The people, relying upon the enforcement of these laws, have torn down their fences to make their places look better, and it does make the city look better without fences around their yards but it looks like the citizens will have to build fences horse high, bull strong and pig proof to save their yards and gardens. Let some officer stay out a little late at night and see just what is going on.

Bids Not Approved

Mr. McClure, the Civil Engineer, who has supervision of the construction of the pikes thru this county came home from Frankfort this week, where he went to consult with Mr. Terrell as to the approval of the bids received by the Fiscal Court for the construction of the pikes from Barbourville, down the river seven miles, and the one next to Bell County, as well as the one up Richland and brought the report that he would approve same as soon as the right-of-ways are procured and left the impression that if the people wanted the roads built that they would have to give to the county the right-of-way upon which to construct these roads. Now it is up to the people who want these roads, they can block the game if they wish to do so, by holding out for money for these right-of-ways. It looks like there is another hindrance to delay the building of the much needed roads. Let everybody loosen up and do all you can to get this matter going we have waited long enough.

It is not necessary to try to build pikes unless we can work while the weather is favorable. You can't build roads in winter.

"By George, I never saw anything like the effects of that new treatment, Tonline Tablets for building up of weight and lost nerve force. It acted more like a miracle than a medicine," said a well-known gentleman yesterday in speaking of the revolution that had taken place in his condition. "I began to think that there was nothing on earth that could make me fat. I tried tonics, digestives, heavy eating, diets, milk, beer and almost everything else you could think of, but nothing did me any good until I took Tonline."

Any man or woman who is thin can recover normal weight by the best new treatment Tonline tablets.

"I have been thin for years and began to think it was natural for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable processes brought about by the use of Tonline Tablets so I decided to try it myself. Well, when I look at myself in the mirror now, I think it is somebody else. I have put on just forty pounds during the last forty days, and never felt stronger."

A 15 Days' Treatment only costs $1.00 at Druggists or mailed by American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass.

"One morning father missed some money out of his clothes and that mother had frisked him during the night. So, while mother was busy in another room father went thru her hand bag in search of his coin. He found a receipted milk bill, a big hunk of prepared chalk, a powder puff two coupons six months old, representing the last time he had taken her to the theater: a button hook, six samples of dress goods, a clipping containing Gene Field's 'Little Boy Blue,' a sample talcum powder, one of the baby's mittens, an old tintype of himself taken before marriage and seven cents in coin. And father felt so mean that he kicked himself all day."
